"Indeed, our special treaties were made for all time, but five years ago the synod declared that such treaties could not be made and were not binding, and this gave the Czar a chance to reach us without breaking his eath. Then all at once our rights were swept away as the other twenty-five lashes." There was still the private the crime into Siberia, and I was there in the bidding of the Greek Church Synod.

"Then we determined to leave the Crime." Czar found that we were determined to leave and stand for our rights, as our fathers had done-for you know we are descended from the Swiss, German and French mations and count the Huguenois among our ancestors—an offer was made to us that if we went to inner Asia, forming new colonies ou the leave of the Black ing new colonies on the border of the Black Sea in Siberia, and would sell the lands to the Government, a treaty of ninely-nine years' duration would be made with us, in which our rights would be left intouched for that space of time.

'The Czar had grown suspicious of me. That night I said that the Czar did not hold the keys of heaven nor did he hold the keys of hell, but that if he wort to either place he would have to go Just like any other poor sinier. If we accepted the proposed treaty we would be free, but our children or our children's children would thereby be sold to the Greek Church. It was decided that we would have nothing to do with the treaty. We would go as our forefathers had gone, and God would lend us to a land where we could worship freely.

"After I got home and was in ted the officers came and dragged me out and took me to a transport. I had with me about a thousand rubles, and I think that I was trusting more in my money than in God, and I thought I would find a way to escape. So I tipped one of the officers and I got a chance to get away. But I did not get very far, for I was caught by some other soldlers and brought back and I got twenty-five lashes for that." The strong, rather rugged face broke into a smile over the remembrance, not that the lashes were easy to bear, for he explained how this is now done. "No, they do not use the cate-time talls any more. They use supple birch rods, tied together, and these they lay on the naked back. NEED BE PAID This is meant for every afflicted man. Records will show that Dr. King has had this offer continuously before the public for five years. He does exactly as he advertises and fulfills every promise to the afflicted and never holds out false hope.

Are you one of the unfortunates who have made a wrong commencement in life? Is your weakened system crying out for help? Or have you been treated in vain by inex-perienced physicians. FREE TREAT-MENTS, FREE TRIAL SAMPLES, PAT-ENT MEDICINES, ELECTRIC BELTS and similar devices? Such treatments canand similar devices? Such treatments cannot and will never cure you, nor will these maladies cure themselves. I cannot see how any man could stand idly by and see his manhood slipping away and his health wrecked by these insidious diseases. When I effer you a cure, and am willing to risk my professional reputation in curing you, and have such faith and confidence in my continue, success in treating these diseases that I WILL NOT ACCEPT A DOLLAR UNTIL YOU ARE PERMANENTLY CURED and satisfied of a lasting cure, what fairer business proposition can be offered to the sick and afflicted? This should convince the skeptical, as I mean what I say and I do exactly as I advertise. REMEMBER, this is not a FREE offer, but you pay me a REASONABLE fee when a cure is accomplished, and NOT A DOLLAR NEED BE PAID UNTIL CURED.

Five sea lions have arrived from Santa Barbara. Cal., and were set free in the sea flon pool, near the reptile-house. The most interesting specimen of the lot is a squaling baby about 20 inches long, which was born on the dock at Santa Barbara. The little fellow has faired very well and is fat. Moreover, it has plenty of stamina and at times rules its mother very despotically.

for the Deaf is Lesile Oren, a blind and Geaf lad.

Lesile Oren was born at Gurneyville, Conton County, October 6, 123d. His parena are Quakers in moderate circumstances. When not quite two and a half years old he was attacked by that dread disease, spinal meningitis.

When he recovered Lesile could neither see nor hear. He gradually talked iers and less until when he meets the Ohio State School for the Deaf, September 12, 1888, at 5 years of age, he could not utter a single word, nor could he make a single want known.

He was first taught the few signs by which he could express his most urgent needs. For example, wann he wanted a drink the sign for water (the manual letter wo on the lits) was snown him. In an incredibly short time he realized that only when signs were acceptly used were his wants satisfied and great was his delight when he found that one motion of the hand trought an apple, another candy. He had learned thirty signs before an attempt was made to teach him to spell words by manual alphabet. Gradually the words spelled in his hands were substituted for the signs previously learned.

Lealle learned to read line print (raised letters) first. The word "hat" in the line print was placed on a hat and he was shown that the line print and manual spelling of the word represented the same object. It was some time before he grasped the idea but after the first word was learned it was a pleasant dight to see his engerness to learn the names of new objects.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Baltimore, July 5.-Charles F. Martenet, Jr., is 16 years of age and pounds. There are few boys of his size anywhere in the world. He is several inches over 6 feet in height. He is extremely proud of his dimensions. Charles seems to erjoy the best of health. About ten years ago he suffered an attack of typhold fever and had but little difficulty in pulling through. Since then, it is said, he has suffered little or no illness. This young Colossus wears a No. 11 shoe His parents usually try to find really-made garments to fit him, but it may well be sup-garments to fit him, but it may well be supposed that they, as a rule, must have them made to order. He has been attending the public school, where a desk of large proportions had to be built to accommodate him. Nothing but good reports have been received from his teachers by his parents.

Imagine "Charile" playing in the street with a lot of keys of ages ranging from 12 to 15 years. That is what he can frequently be seen doing, and it is a funny sight. His favorite game is baseball, and it usually falls to him to cover a number of positions. His companions argue that he is big enough and they companions argue that he is big enough and they companion that, and moreover, he is held responsible for everything that falls out in the extreme right field. He does it without a murmur and is regarded by his companion as "good fellow."
